Missionary Update for The Higbys in Japan

Matt Daniels, Kyler Malarae and Matt Higby have started playing a game called Spikeball as a way to meet new guys for ministry. So far this has been successful as a way to build new relationships and strengthen existing ones. They have also continued to help out with the English conversation ministry at our local church. Matt has also begun using cycling as a way to spend time with guys he is building relations with.

Please pray that these relationships will lead to spiritual conversations.
